Upcargo with Efficient Transport of Aircraft Loader in Panama

PCN members in Panama, Upcargo Logistics have successfully executed the inland transportation of an aircraft loader from the Port of Balboa to Tocumen International Airport.

The equipment, measuring 11.50 x 3.60 x 2.08m and weighing 28.5mtn, required detailed planning due to its oversized nature. The operation involved port coordination, special transport permits, route assessment, and controlled handling to ensure the safe and efficient delivery.

Project Cargo Specialist at Upcargo, Julio Afú comments; "Upon arrival at Tocumen International Airport, the loader was discharged and immediately placed into operation. Its integration is expected to significantly improve the efficiency of loading and unloading cargo aircraft, reducing turnaround times and strengthening operational performance at one of the region's key air cargo hubs as well as Panama's strategic role as a multimodal logistics platform connecting maritime and air transportation."

WPCS with Barge Solution to Keep Project Cargo Moving

PCN members in Ireland, Wilkinson Project Cargo Services (WPCS) report a recent challenging project resulting in a happy client.

The shipment required loading from Ireland to Belgium. However, due to unexpected roadworks and resulting permit issues, WPCS had to come up with an alternative option.

Managing Director at WPCS, Andrew Wilkinson comments; "Our solution was to get the units lifted onto a barge and move them down the canal past the point of the roadwork issues. Then the trucks met the units at the barge unloading point and re-loaded them back onto trailers and onwards to the final destination."

WPCS can always come up with creative solutions to efficiently and safely keep the project moving.
